A Few Key FDFNY Programs

American History in Black and White/

Voting Your Values

This program is designed to be presented in 1 to 3 sessions to allow content to be effectively absorbed and discussed. Options: 3-½ hour single seminar: Includes feature film by award-winning historian David Barton; A Power point presentation or a 3 session broken up to allow maximum conversation. All options allow for a Douglass Public Forum discussion time immediately following presentations.

Financial Freedom and the American Dream

Economics 101 – a single session class, with the option of a follow-up course that can continue up to 6 sessions. The primary class would focus on Budgeting 101, outlining basic economics skills that are often grossly neglected in the public school system & the reality of scripture as it relates to economics.

Hall Walkers/Grassroots Lobbyist

Volunteer to go to Albany once a month and to DC once a quarter. Learn how to talk to legislators and how to be effective at the process. “Boots on the ground.”

Charecter First:

Ages 11 and up. The objective is to educate our children on the real risks and costs of premature sexual activity/premarital sex, while encouraging and equipping them to meet the challenge of a Godly character and true purity, preparing their way for a successful marriage life. This is offered as an in-depth 16-week course, or a one-time overview seminar option.

Love and Respect

Ages 17 and up. This Pre-Marriage counseling/Marriage builder helps those interested in dating and getting married one day. The objective is to give couples foundations for meaningful and intimate relationships. Including instruction booklets on how to strengthen or renew a strong and loving marriage, this event also helps those who are in troubled marriages or relationships. Course can be custom organized for specific target groups.

“MAAFA 21: 21st Century Genocide” Film Screening

Screening & Discussion of “MAAFA 21: 21st Century Genocide,” A Life Dynamics Film documenting the history of eugenics, Planned Parenthood and race. 2 hr 19 mn film run time plus follow-up Q&A session with panel of members.

All programs, events and seminars presented by the Frederick Douglass Foundation follow a comprehensive Biblical world view.*
